

Stanford Prison Experiment: Zimbardo

Define deindividuation

---

---

---

Participants were randomly assigned to two groups. What groups were these?

---

---

---

During the experiment, how did the behaviour of the participants change?

---

---

---

---

What factors caused the behaviour of the participants to change?

---

---

---

Give at least three examples of behaviour displayed by the participants that concerned the psychologists.

---

---

---

---

What happened to the names of the prisoners? Why would this add to deindividuation?

---

---

---

When did the experiment end? Why is this significant?

---

---

Give at least 2 evaluations of this study. One evaluation should link to ethics.

---

---

---

---